・自己PR Self-promotion	Hi, I'm Tammy!! I was born and raised just outside Kyoto, only a short drive from its famous tea-growing regions. Tea has always been a familiar part of the local landscape and everyday life for me. Since 2023, I have been working as a tour guide, mainly in Kyoto. Growing up in a three-generation household, I was surrounded by stories, traditions, and everyday customs passed down through the generations. As a guide, I enjoy not only sharing facts about the places we visit, but also telling personal stories and connecting them to what you see and experience. I've always loved tea, and when I was younger, I had the opportunity to practice the Japanese tea ceremony. These days, matcha is becoming increasingly popular around the world. But did you know that matcha is just one part of Japan's diverse tea culture? I'd love to share some of the lesser-known stories and traditions behind Japanese tea with you. Let's explore beyond matcha and discover the world of Japanese tea together!
・お茶の京都エリア内での得意分野・エリア （案内可能地域含む） Specialties and areas within the Kyoto Tea area (including areas where you can guide)	Uji is our most popular area, famous for its beautiful tea fields and rich tea culture. It is also home to Byodo-in Temple, one of Kyoto's UNESCO World Heritage Sites. Beyond Uji, I also guide visitors to Zen temples, tea fields, and hidden gems, sharing the stories and traditions that make each place special.
